SUPPORT LISA TORMOEN

Kick Cancer in the...

our sweet, kind, beautiful friend Lisa was diagnosed with stage 3 colorectal cancer February 21, 2020. After completion of her 9+ chemo treatments, the doctor's had her immediately follow with 6 weeks of radiation and in December of 2020, tumor removal surgery was performed, along with removal of some lymph nodes, a hysterectomy, and an ostomy bag so her body could heal.

During the middle of this - she was laid off from her career of 20+ years, which added a bit of panic in the middle of the scariest time in her life. Surgery + recovery went well, however a few months after her surgery, routine lab work showed her tumor marker was going up. Lisa's oncologist scheduled a CT and Petscan, that showed cancer was back + it had metastasized to her liver + lung which brought her diagnosis to stage 4. She began round two of chemotherapy in March of 2021, one year after being diagnosed.

As of today, her body is still fighting hard to kick cancer's ass. Her tumor marker has fluctuated, and her latest visit indicated the chemo needs to continue so the cancer doesn't spread more, which makes it imperative that her friends, family + loved ones come together to show our support and love for our amazing friend, Lisa. She needs us.
